BETWEEN

The Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society Ltd.,

AND

Their workmen at Calcutta.

APPEARANCES:

Shri S. K. Acharya, Counsel, with Shri T. Basu, assisted by Shri N. Ghose and Shri J. Chowdhury, Joint Secretaries of the Employees Union for the workmen.

Shri S. C. Chakraborty, Advocate, assisted by Shri S. N. Roy Choudhury, Zonal Manager for the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society.

AWARD

By order No. LR-90(153), dated 11th/21st March 1953, the industrial dispute between the employers in relation to the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society

Ltd., Calcutta and their workmen at Calcutta in respect of three matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to my learned predecessor Shri K. S. Campbell-Puri, who was then the Chairman of the Central Government Industrial Tribunal at Calcutta. By order No. LR-60(180), dated 8th/10th August 1953, I was constituted industrial tribunal at Calcutta by a notification of the Government of India in the Ministry of Labour and by order No. LR-60(180), dated 10th August 1953, the said dispute was referred to me for adjudication. The particulars of dispute as detailed in the schedule to the said order are as follows:

SCHEDULE

- (1) Whether retrenchment of about fifty temporary workmen is justified and if so, what retrenchment compensation, if any, should be paid.
- (2) Whether temporary employees who have completed six months service should be made permanent with retrospective effect from date of appointment and whether on confirmation, they will be entitled to any arrears of difference of salary and dearness allowance from the date of appointment.
- (3) Whether the whole or any part of the service rendered by the workmen under the Management of the Chief Agents, Dastidar and Sons, should count as service under the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society Ltd.

2. Notices having been sent to the parties concerned and extension of time for filing statements of claim having been also granted as requested, the statement of claims was filed on 15th May 1953 and the written statement of the Society was filed on 29th June 1953 and by an order of my learned predecessor the enquiry was posted to 13th July 1953. In the meantime an application for adjournment of the hearing as well as for the inspection of documents in the custody of the Employers was filed by the Employees Union representing the employees on 9th July 1953 and the application was heard by my learned predecessor on 10th July 1953. After hearing the learned Counsel on either side on 13th July 1953 an order was passed directing the Union to file an additional statement after inspection of the documents not later than the 17th August 1953 and the Society was granted three weeks time thereafter for filing the reply so that a fresh date might be fixed for holding the enquiry. A number of other petitions having been filed on behalf of the Union there was a further hearing before me on 10th August 1953 but the matter had to be adjourned to 25th August 1953 in view of the fact that a notification by the Government of India was awaited regarding a fresh reference to be made to me after my constitution as Tribunal. These notifications having been made, fresh notices were issued to the parties on 17th August 1953. The Employees' Union filed an additional statement and the Society filed a reply to the said statement on the 24th August 1953.

3. At the enquiry which was held thereafter on 25th August 1953 issues were framed on the pleadings filed by the parties and the enquiry was fixed to be held on 16th September 1953. As an attempt for settlement of the dispute was being made, all the parties met at Bombay for the purpose and further adjournment was granted for hearing of the case to 23rd September 1953. The case was heard before me on that day and on the two following days as well as on 28th September and 29th September 1953 when arguments were heard after the evidence was closed.

4. I shall now proceed to set out very briefly the contentions of the parties as disclosed by the statements of claim and the written statements: The workmen of the Society which is as old as 1871 are represented by the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society's Employees Union (Z.O.), Calcutta. The Society has its head office in Bombay and it has an extensive field of business both in and outside India. For the purpose of securing business and running the administration the Society set out Agency Offices in different parts of India most of which have been converted into Branch offices since the passing of the Insurance Amendment Act, 1950. According to the Union the functions and nature of work of the Chief Agent's office and that of the Branch office are identical and the same and the appointments of the employees were given by the Chief Agents in the name of the principal and at the time of the appointment the verbal understanding induced the employees to believe that they are employees of the principal or in other words the Agent's office held out that they were acting on behalf of the parent company. The employees who are parties to this dispute were appointed by Messrs. Dastidar & Sons who were Chief Agents since 1916 and also subsequently by the Zonal office. Though the Society did not act directly either in the matter of appointment or procurement of business, the Chief Agents were always aware that they were not employers of the staff and this position was maintained by the acts and representations made by the Chief Agents. Whatever changes might have been effected on paper in the name of the system of procurement of business or otherwise the same old office premises of the Agents continued even after 1st September 1950 and all old books of accounts continued and also all old field staff continued but the old permanent and efficient hands were termed as new employees and were accordingly told to serve a period of probation. The Union maintains that all the employees employed in the Chief Agency of the company became automatically the employees of the branch office and the then Manager Mr. T. C. Kapoor of the Society's head office gave an assurance to the effect that the employees will continue as employees of the Society but it designated the workmen as temporary employees. The Union also asserts that on the persistent agitation of the workmen, the employees mentioned in Annexures B and C were confirmed in two batches in April 1951 and May 1951 and deferred the confirmation of the others to a future date without assigning any reason. The Union further maintains that the Society's pressure of work and workload are heavy in the Calcutta office, that the out-turn of work are greater in volume in contrast to the work done by clerks in other branches, that the Society is highly prosperous that the insurance policies are ever increasing though the number of employees remained constant and that the temporary employees who are set out in Annexure D are being continued without being given retrospective effect of the benefit of the scheme of pay and allowances from the date of appointment. The Union which was formed in June 1951 refers to the efforts made by them to have their grievances redressed by approaching the Regional Labour Commissioner and the Conciliation Officer. They maintain that no retrenchment of any workman has been effected much less has there been retrenchment of 50 persons hence there is no merit in adjudicating the question as formulated in Issue No. (1) of the schedule to the Reference. They contend that all the employees who are termed temporary should be made permanent with retrospective effect from the date of employment and they should be entitled to all arrears in difference of salaries and Dearness Allowance. They claim that the whole period of service prior to 1950 when the branch started should be counted in the period of service in the Society and the employees should be deemed to be in continuous service since their appointment. They also claim that the temporary employees who have counted six months' service including the service performed under the Chief Agents should be made permanent with retrospective effect from the date of appointment and should be entitled to all arrears in difference of salary and allowances and that this should also apply to persons who are already permanent.

The contention of the Society is that the Chief Agents were independent contractors doing certain work in consideration of remuneration based on the business and premia received and that so far as the insurance world is concerned the expressions "Agency" and "Agents" have meanings different from those defined in the Indian Contract Act; even canvassors selling policies being described as Agents. They state that when the contract with Messrs. Dastidar & Sons came to be terminated the Society opened a Branch office at Calcutta with effect from 1st September 1950 and that items of work of the Chief Agents were identical with what the Branch office was required to do only to a very limited extent. The Society states that the appointments of staff were made by the Chief Agents on their own behalf and no assurance or representation have been made with the Chief Agents that the appointments were made on behalf of the Society. The Society never bore any office expense of the Chief Agents excepting what was paid on contractual basis. A small amount in lump was paid as office charges depending from year to year on the business out-turn of the Chief Agents and having no relation to the actual office expenses. The Society had no control over the officers of the Chief Agents and the staff and never gave directions to any employee of the Chief Agents nor did the Society have any control over the scales of pay of the employees. Messrs. Dastidar & Sons was a registered firm having an office of its own and it was assessed for income-tax purposes independently and trade licence was also granted in the name of Messrs. Dastidar & Sons. Messrs. Dastidar & Sons terminated the employment of each and every one of the employees on the eve of termination of their contract by giving one month's notice and the Society's permission was never sought in this connection. As the Society needed men to begin their Zonal Office on 1st September 1950 it was thought expedient to appoint the staff of the ex-Chief Agent as a temporary measure. Accordingly the employees were appointed for two months on a temporary basis and the term was extended to 31st January 1951 and later to 30th April 1951. As every zonal office must not only be self-sufficient but also should contribute its proper quota for the central administration the Society took time to examine the situation before they could think of finalising the staff structure and having examined the position after the Branch had functioned for more than six months the Society arrived at a tentative estimate of their requirements and confirmed about 80 persons consisting of staff and sub-staff in two batches before June 1951 keeping the rest purely on a temporary basis. The Society could not liquidate the surplus staff because the clearance of the arrears by Messrs. Dastidar & Sons created further arrears and the Society had contemplated to open special branches in Patna and Assam and to absorb a few temporary hands in these offices. The Society states that no satisfactory progress having been made in clearing up the arrears even after the additional staff was retained, the position got worse and became so bad that the Society was compelled to take some more hands as further temporary emergency measure. By about September 1952 the Society had been contemplating to discharge all the temporary men but the Employees' Union started pressing for their retention and ultimately in October 1952 the retrenchment could not be carried out at the instance of the Conciliation Officer. The Society denies that the same attendance registers and the wage registers were continued by the Zonal Office and it is also stated that Shri T. C. Kapoor never gave any assurance that all the men on temporary basis would be confirmed or their service under Messrs. Dastidar & Sons would be taken into consideration by the Society and that Shri Kapoor repudiated subsequently in terms of permanency. According to the Society judged by the standard of work in other offices the Calcutta office does not require more than 53 clerks and as in no case the emoluments of the employees fell short of the previous employees under Messrs. Dastidar & Sons, but on the other hand appreciably increased, the Society gave permanent employment to the persons mentioned in Annexures B and C and retained the others to clear up arrears and for training men for the Hollerith machine. The Society denies that it acted under malice in taking men under permanent employ and that there is no favouritism. The work-load in the Calcutta office is not heavy and no comparison with the head office is possible because the Calcutta office is mainly a transmitting office and not a dealing office. The Society states that it is bound to keep the expense of the Calcutta office down so that the combined expenses of the Society does not exceed the statutory limit and unless the strength of the staff is reduced to 53 his office is bound to run at an expense ratio which is much higher than expected and thus contribute a major share in pushing up the Society's over-all expense ratio beyond the statutory limit. As regards the contention of the Union that Issuc No. (1) is misconceived it is stated that the Society had decided upon liquidating the temporary staff and the Union had been pressing for their retention and permanency and hence it is an integral part of the dispute. In short the Society's contention is that the temporary men are surplus on the basis of the both work and cost and their retention any longer cannot be justified and they cannot claim any benefit for services rendered to Messrs. Dastidar & Sons. The Society press for liquidating the temporary staff without any compensation.

On these contentions the following issues were framed:

ISSUES:

- (1) Whether the Tribunal has jurisdiction to decide point of dispute No. 1?
- (2) Is there any justification for the proposed discharge of the temporary workmen?
- (3) If so, what retrenchment compensation, if any, are the temporary workmen entitled to?
- (4) Whether temporary employees who have completed six months' service should be made permanent with retrospective effect from date of appointment?
- (5) Whether on confirmation the employees will be entitled to any arrears of difference of salary and dearness allowance from the date of appointment?
- (6) Whether the whole or any part of the service rendered by the workmen under the management of the Chief Agents, Dastidar & Sons, should count as service under the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society Ltd.?

The workmen examined five witnesses (WW-1 to WW-5) viz. (1) Janab S. S. Imam, (2) Shri N. C. Mathur, (3) Jyotana Kumar Chowdhury, (4) Shri S. N. Bhowaic and (5) Shri Nripendra Nath Ghosh and the management examined two witnesses, (EW-1 and EW-2) (1) Shri S. P. Guha and (2) Shri S. N. Roy Chowdhury. By way of rebuttal WW-2 Shri Mathur was recalled by the Union and examined witness No. 6, Shri Pritiman Gupta. At the enquiry the Employees Union was represented by Shri S. K. Acharya, Counsel, and the management was represented by Shri S. C. Chakraborty, Advocate.

Issue No. (1).—Whether the Tribunal has jurisdiction to decide point of dispute No. 1?

I shall now proceed to deal with Issue (1) which deals with the question of jurisdiction of this Tribunal to decide item (1) of the dispute set out in the schedule which reads thus:

“Whether retrenchment of about 50 temporary workmen is justified and if so, what retrenchment compensation, if any, should be paid.”

This issue has been raised at the instance of the learned Counsel for the employees on the ground that since there has been no retrenchment of any workman no question arises relating to the justification of retrenchment much less of retrenchment of 50 workmen. The contention is that the item of dispute has been mentioned wrongly on account of misconception and therefore there is no merit in adjudicating the question in the form referred to. In support of this contention the provisions of Section 10 sub-section (4) are quoted. Section 10 reads—“Where in an order referring an industrial dispute to a Tribunal under this section or in a subsequent order, the appropriate Government has specified the points of dispute for adjudication, the Tribunal shall confine its adjudication to those points and matters incidental thereto.” It is argued that since the point of dispute as specified is as regards retrenchment of 50 temporary workmen and since there has been no retrenchment yet affected this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the question of retrenchment. But it has to be stated that it is not so much the wording of the point of dispute as appears in the schedule that matters and that the more important point to be noticed is as to what is the point of dispute that has been the subject of conciliation proceedings and what is exactly the point that the Government desired the Tribunal to adjudicate upon. There can be absolutely no doubt that the central point of dispute between the employees and the Society is about the proposed or threatened retrenchment of all temporary workmen. A reference to Ex. O which is a communication from the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central) to the President of the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society's Employees Union shows that the first point of dispute was about the retrenchment of the employees who are on the rolls of the Society as on 1st October 1952. It is seen from the evidence of Janab S. S. Imam (WW-1) that his recommendation which is also that of the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central) was as per paragraph 1 of Ex. O regarding retrenchment of the workmen which was due to the demand made by the Union that there should be no retrenchment because the Company wanted to retrench certain workmen. It is only on the strength of this recommendation that the Government referred the dispute for adjudication by this Tribunal. The item No. (1) of the dispute as per Schedule can and does refer only to the threatened retrenchment of the temporary workmen. The wording of the particulars of the dispute could not be construed to mean that a retrenchment of 50 workmen had been effected and the justification of retrenchment of those persons had been referred for adjudication. It has been held by the Supreme Court of India (Reported in Labour Law Journal Vol. I, 1953 p. 174)—The State of Madras Vs. C. P. Sarathy and another that “while it is desirable that in making a reference Government should indicate the nature of the dispute, it must be remembered that Government acting u/s 10 is doing an administrative act and the fact that it has to form an opinion as to the factual existence of the dispute as a preliminary step to discharge its functions does not make it less administrative in character and the Court cannot canvass the order closer as if it was a judicial or quasi-judicial act.” As I stated already it is the substance of the dispute that is mentioned that should be looked into and much importance need not be attached to the wording as it appears in the schedule. The Union appears to have approached the Government with a request that this item of dispute as it appears in the schedule should not be allowed to be adjudicated upon in view of the fact that there is actually no retrenchment but the Union was informed by the Government that if there was any such dispute the Union was at liberty to withdraw the dispute at the time of the enquiry before the Tribunal. If the question relating to the retrenchment of the workmen is not pressed and withdrawn the central point of dispute between the parties will disappear and there will be not much left to be adjudicated upon because the other questions relating to permanency arrears and difference of salary etc. arise only as incidental to the question of retrenchment. When this aspect of the matter was brought to the notice of the learned Counsel for the employees he almost conceded that there was not much force in his contention as regards jurisdiction. I, therefore, find that the Tribunal has jurisdiction to decide point of dispute No. (1) as it has been understood to arise between the parties as disclosed in the conciliation proceedings as well as the pleadings before me.

Issue No. (6)—Whether the whole or any part of the service rendered by the workmen under the management of the Chief Agents, Messrs. Dastidar & Sons should count as service under the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society Ltd.?

Before proceeding to consider Issues (2) to (5) which deal with the question of justification for the proposed retrenchment of temporary employees and allied questions I shall deal with Issue No. (6) which relates to the continuity of service claimed by the employees with reference to the service rendered under the management of the Chief Agents, Messrs. Dastidar & Sons. It is admitted that Messrs. Dastidar & Sons were appointed Chief Agents of the Society as early as 1916 for procuring business for the Society in Bengal, Bihar, Orissa and Assam and that Messrs. Dastidar & Sons had their registered office at 8, Clive Street, Calcutta. The said firm of Messrs. Dastidar & Sons entered into Articles of Agreement with the Society from time to time for the purpose of enabling them to act as Chief Agents of the Society. There was an agreement Ex. 2 for a period of 10 years from 1st June 1928 to 31st May 1938. There was also a power of attorney in favour of the partners of Messrs. Dastidar & Sons dated 31st May 1933. It is seen from Ex. 5 that Messrs. Dastidar & Sons tendered their resignation of their appointment with effect from 31st August 1950 and that the resignation was accepted. There is absolutely nothing in either Ex. 2 or Ex. 4 to indicate that the Chief Agents were empowered to appoint the staff of their office on behalf of the Society or that the Society should have any control or powers of supervision of the staff of Messrs. Dastidar & Sons, Calcutta. On the other hand there is enough material in the evidence to show that the staff was appointed by Messrs. Dastidar & Sons and had absolutely no connection with the head office. The terms of agency between the Society and Messrs. Dastidar & Sons were that the Chief Agents were allowed a consolidated amount as commission and also some additional amount for postage, travelling and office expenses which depended upon the production of new business every year. The Society did not pay the salary of the staff as a separate item of remuneration to the Chief Agents on the other hand the office had to be run by Messrs. Dastidar & Sons and the remuneration of the staff had to be met from not only the commission payable to the Chief Agents but also some lump sum amount paid as office expenses. This is a sure indication that the staff were employed by Messrs. Dastidar & Sons on their behalf and not on behalf of the Society. There is ample evidence on record to show that before Messrs. Dastidar & Sons resigned their chief agency with effect from 31st August 1950 they terminated the service of the staff under them by giving them due notice. Thereafter on the following day the staff employed by Messrs. Dastidar & Sons were retained for employment under a zonal office to be established at Calcutta and they were employed only on a temporary basis. The temporary employment was extended to 31st January 1951 and again to 31st May 1951. It is admitted that subsequent to the termination of service by Messrs. Dastidar & Sons, the employees received the amount due to them by way of Provident Fund inclusive of the amount of contribution by the employers. Ex. 29 series are the discharge receipts in regard to the payment of the Provident Fund. If after the termination of the employment and re-appointment by the zonal office the Provident Fund amount due by Messrs. Dastidar & Sons had been paid and received I do not see how the employees can claim any continuance of service and successfully contend that the service under the zonal office should be tacked on with the service under the Chief Agents. It is also pertinent to note that this question relating to continuance of service was not mooted at first. Exhibits V and W dated 7th August 1952 and 18th June 1952 are about the first demands made by the Union on the question of recognition of past service. In Ex. W it is stated that most of the employees of the zonal office had been serving the Society for a pretty long period of time although they were under the management of Messrs. Dastidar & Sons for a considerable period and that their earnest appeal was to extend Society's recognition to the past service and to allow the incumbents the benefit due. In Ex. V the request is for counting of service under the chief agency as eminently reasonable. There is also a reference to this question in the petition filed by the employees on 17th April 1951, Ex. 22 to the Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Society. In paragraph 4 it is stated that their tenure of employment in the past directly under the Chief Agents may be treated as having been rendered to the Society and dealt with as a continuous employment. This cuts at the root the case of the Union that the appointment of the staff under the Chief Agents was made on behalf of the Society.

One point urged on behalf of the employees is about the continuance by the zonal office of the registers that were being maintained by Messrs. Dastidar & Sons. No doubt probably due to inadvertence the fact that the same registers were continued was denied in the statements of the Society. As a matter of fact it is seen that the same acquittance roll and the Attendance Register that were being maintained by the Chief Agents were continued to be used by the zonal office. This, however, is not of much consequence as originally the registers bore the name of Messrs. Dastidar & Sons and had absolutely no reference to the Society. To indicate that the registers were being continued by the zonal office rubber stamps have been affixed in Exhibits 38 & 39 at the entries relating to 1st September 1950. Shri Jyotana Kumar Chowdhury (WW-3) for the workmen was questioned about the affixing of the rubber stamp and he would not deny the existence of the rubber stamp. He would only say that he did not remember about it. I am therefore prepared to accept the explanation of Society's witness No. 2 Shri S. N. Roychowdhury, Zonal Manager, to the effect that as there was sufficient surplus space in the registers it was thought expedient to make the entries in the same account books so as to avoid waste of money especially when the Society had to purchase the stationery and the account books from the Chief Agents. There is evidence to show that even the furniture was estimated by paying a heavy commission to the estimator and the Society had to pay to the Chief Agents the cost of the furniture. Another point urged is that benefit of staff insurance was extended to the employees of Messrs. Dastidar & Sons and Shri S. N. Roychowdhury who was elected to form the Council of the Institute for 1941-42 is shown as against Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society in Ex. 5. But this circumstance by itself cannot show that the staff of Messrs. Dastidar & Sons was employed on behalf of the Society. There is however clinching piece of evidence which deserves to be referred to and that is afforded by Ex. 33 (p. 559). This is a Report by a Board of Conciliation during 1948 (Vol. II) appointed to dissolve the industrial dispute between Messrs. Dastidar & Sons and the Employees Association. If the contention of the Union that the employees were appointed for and on behalf of the Society and were as such employees of the Society and not of the Chief Agents, is correct one would expect that the parties to the dispute would be Society and their employees and not Messrs. Dastidar & Sons and the Employees Association. As it is, the Society did not come into the picture at all and this is an indication that the Society had nothing to do with the staff employed by the Chief Agents. Taking all circumstances into consideration it can be easily contended that the office that was run by Messrs. Dastidar & Sons had nothing to do with the Society and the staff could not have been appointed for and on behalf of the Society. It only remains for me to refer to the entry in the Telephone Directory (May 1947—p. 86) which shows that the telephone number was registered in the name of the Society. It has however to be stated that in the same directory at p. 127 the same number is shown as belonging to Messrs. Dastidar & Sons. Not much importance can therefore be attached to this circumstance. The learned Counsel for the employees places reliance on Sections 210 and 226 of the Contract Act and also a certain passage of Boasted on Agency. But these provisions are not of much help to the employees as I find that Messrs. Dastidar & Sons were in the position of independent contractors who were only receiving certain amount as office expenses but were maintaining an independent office with a staff of their own. I, therefore, find under Issue No. (6) that no part of the service rendered by the workmen under the management of the Chief Agents Messrs. Dastidar & Sons can be made to count as service under the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society Ltd.

Issues.—(2) Is there any justification for the proposed discharge of the temporary workman?

(3) If so, what retrenchment compensation, if any, are the temporary workmen entitled to?

(4) Whether temporary employees who have completed six months' service should be made permanent with retrospective effect from date of appointment? and

(5) Whether on confirmation the employees will be entitled to any arrears of difference of salary and dearness allowance from the date of appointment?

I shall now proceed to consider the most important item of dispute between the parties. At the time when Messrs. Dastidar & Sons resigned their chief agency the clerical staff consisted of 86 members. In 1951 it continued to be 86 and in 1952 two more were added to the number. The present strength is 86. The clerical staff at Calcutta as disclosed in Ex. 27 is 92 but this figure includes clerks employed in the sub branches at Patna and Assam. Annexure B to the statement of claims by the Employees Union shows that in April 1951, 25 employees were confirmed and Annexure C shows that 35 more members were confirmed in May 1951. Of these 60 persons four employees are said to have either resigned or left the service of the Society otherwise. Annexure D mentions the names of 19 persons in category I and 15 persons in category II. One out of the 19 and two out of the 15 having resigned and there are at present 31 temporary employees. As regards the sub staff there are 11 persons in the first category and 5 persons in the second category. It is stated that about 8 members of the sub staff were appointed specifically for the Society's Estate at Calcutta and cannot be said to form part of the zonal office. It is the case of the Society that on a proper computation only 53 employees are required for the clerical staff and the rest of the staff is found to be surplus for the requirements of the zonal office. It is in evidence that in March 1951 the Society made an assessment of the requirements of staff and sub staff and found that they can manage the office with 60 assistants and 20 sub staff and that this requisite number of 80 persons were confirmed in two batches. When questioned as to why the surplus staff was not discharged at once Shri Roychowdhury (RW-2), who is the Zonal Manager, stated that the arrears left by the Chief Agents continued and the Society also had in contemplation the opening of other sub branches in the area. According to this witness the clearing up of the arrears took longer time than expected and in about July 1951 an officer came from Bombay to look after the work and set the matter right. But even his intervention does not seem to have borne any fruitful result and in October 1951 the Chief Accountant in the Head Office was deputed to look into the deplorable state of arrears which arose on account of certain number of staff leaving the office from about March 1951. As a result of the report sent by the Chief Accountant it was found necessary to recruit some more hands over and above those mentioned in Category I of Annexure D to the statement of claims and new men mentioned in Category II were accordingly recruited from November 1951 on a purely temporary basis. In spite of the recruitment of new staff the arrears of work continued and the Zonal Manager had to admit that the arrears ceased to exist only about three months ago. This means that the staff which was found to be surplus in May 1951 along with the staff which was subsequently recruited from November 1951 were unable to clear off the arrears of work even after the elapse of 18 months subsequent to the recruitment of the additional staff. If on a proper computation only 53 men are required for the purpose of this zonal office there is absolutely no proper explanation forthcoming for the continuance of arrears till three months ago even with the help of additional staff. There can be no doubt that the original assessment made in March 1951 was not accurate and that the figure of 53 mentioned by the Zonal Manager is the result of an under estimate and not based upon the actual work to be turned out in the office. The Zonal Manager says that the expense ratio for the Society in 1952 was 17:37 on renewal premium as against 15 per cent. of the statutory requirements. The argument advanced is that as the expense ratio should be kept down to the statutory requirement it was necessary to effect retrenchment and to see that the Branch office is not only self-sufficient but also contributes sufficiently for the expenditure in the head office.

The Zonal Manager states in his evidence that though 60 persons were found to be necessary on the first assessment 53 was fixed later in view of the installation of the Hollerith machine and that this figure of 53 was fixed on the basis of the experience gained in other branches. It is admitted that the assessment was done by the head office and the Zonal Manager says that he was told by the head office that 53 was the requisite number. He did not work in the head office though he had visited it a number of times. He has not visited any other branch. He cannot be expected to have any intimate knowledge of the work-load in the head office as compared with the work-loads in the branches or to state with any definiteness that 53 would be the requisite number. The persons in the head office who arrived at this figure of 53 would be the best persons to speak about the correctness of the figure and yet that person has not been examined before me. On the other hand reliance was placed on Exhibits 27 and 37. The Zonal Manager has spoken to the preparation of the Exhibits 36 and 37 under his supervision but he has not spoken to the preparation of Ex. 27. Ex. 27 is a statement showing the expense position on staff in relation to premium income for the branches for the year 1952. By a reference to the figures mentioned as against Delhi, Lucknow and Calcutta branches, it is sought to be made out that the strength of the staff at Calcutta is far above the needs of the branch when compared to the number of persons working at Delhi and Lucknow. But there is absolutely no evidence to show whether the figures shown against Delhi and Lucknow branches includes temporary workers or whether these branches have been in existence for a long time or are only recent creations. If the branch is an old one there are number of policy holders there is likely to be more work to be turned out than in the case of recently opened branches. Ex. 37 shows that the cost of establishment of temporary persons is Rs. 58,311-12-0. I do not think it would be correct to come to a conclusion as regards the requisite staff in a certain branch by merely comparing the number of workmen in other branches and the premium income derived in those branches. I am therefore not satisfied that the assessment of the requisite staff required for the branch has been properly done or executed. The result of the working of the branch even subsequent to the recruitment of additional staff shows clearly that this assessment cannot be correct. In my opinion the Society has failed to show that there is a real surplus of staff over and above the requirements of the branch office. This remark applies only to the temporary workers that were in employment prior to November 1951. The learned Counsel for the employers has based his arguments on two other points apart from the question of surplus. He states that whether there is surplus or no surplus the Society has no money to pay and therefore it was necessary to discharge the temporary workmen. I do not think that this position can be accepted. If the Society is not in a position to keep their expenses within the ratio fixed by statute they have to economise in more ways than one and unless they have explored other ways and found it impossible to keep the expense ratio within the statutory limit, they cannot be allowed to axe the clerical staff merely on the ground that the expense ratio has been exceeded. An attempt was made recently by The Empire of India Insurance Company to bring down the expenses at the top and thus obviate the necessity to retrench the clerical staff. It has been brought out in the evidence that the Society engages in the head office four offices with actuarial qualifications whereas other companies such as Oriental Life Assurance Company whose out-turn of work is nearly five times that of the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society are able to get on with three men with actuarial qualifications. It is also seen from Ex. 45 that losses have been suffered by the Society in 1952, as a result of investment and also other causes. A sum of Rs. 58,000 and odd required for maintaining the temporary staff works out only at .49 of the expense ratio, though according to the employers it comes to 1 per cent. The excess during the last two years is 2.37 and the Society has taken care to see that provisions of Section 40-B of the Insurance Act are not contravened by approaching the Controller as required in the Section. The argument therefore that the temporary staff whether surplus or no surplus should be allowed to be discharged because the expense ratio has been exceeded, cannot be accepted.

I find it impossible to accept the evidence of the Zonal Manager to the effect that he could manage the office with 53 persons. The Hollerith machine was introduced in January 1952. The machinery has been costing about Rs. 25,000 and according to the evidence adduced on behalf of the employees there has been constant break-down and errors were also being committed in the figures. I do not think it has been ever in the contemplation of the Society to retrench staff by reason of the introduction of the Hollerith. Ex. P which is an office note of the head office Manager dated 14th March 1953 makes it perfectly clear that there was no intention to retrench the staff by reason of the introduction of the Hollerith. It is stated that this has reference only to the head office. But it is not known how concession which is shown to the staff of the head office should be withdrawn from the staff in the branch offices or why the staff in the branch office should be deprived of the benefit which the other workers got.

No doubt as observed by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case relating to Vishwamitra Press (Labour Appeal Cases 1952 p. 21) the principle has been accepted that "it is a prima facie right of the Management to determine its labour force and the Management would be the best judge to determine the number of workmen who would become surplus on the ground of rationalisation, economy or other reasons on which retrenchment can be sustained". But it has been accepted as a salutary principle that "where in effecting the retrenchment, the Management acts in a bona fide manner the number retrenched by it ought to be accepted"; "but that when the management is influenced by extraneous considerations or improper motives the Tribunal must scrutinize the matter with great circumspection and must confine the number of retrenchment strictly within the limits of actual requirement". It has been held that in such cases the management must justify by evidence the extent of the retrenchment. As already pointed out the management has failed to adduce the best evidence and to satisfy me that retrenchment of all the temporary workman is justified. I am not satisfied that the computation of the requisite number is bona fide. But on the other hand I am convinced that the figure of 53 mentioned is arbitrary and cannot be sustained to be correct. The principles on which retrenchment is to be effected and on which retrenchment would be upheld by a Tribunal have been set out in the Buckingham & Carnatic Mills case (1951 Labour Law Journal II p. 314) by the Labour Appellate Tribunal. It has been observed that 'the power of the management to direct its internal administration which includes the enforcement of discipline of the personnel cannot be denied but that with the emergence of modern concepts of social justice that an employee should be protected against vindictive or capricious action on the part of the management which may affect the security of his service, this power has to be subjected to certain restrictions.' It has also been laid down that the decision of the management in relation to the charges against the employee will not prevail if there is: "(a) want of bona fides, or (b) it is a case of victimization or unfair labour practice or violation of the principles of natural justice, or (c) there is a basic error on facts, or (d) there has been a perverse finding on the materials." I have found already that there is want of bona fides in this matter and there is also a basic error on facts and perverse finding on the materials. It follows that there would be a violation of the principles of natural justice if all the temporary workmen are allowed to be retrenched. There is one other argument which the learned Counsel for the Employers urged before me viz. that it is not necessary for the Society to show justification to retrench persons who are taken purely on a temporary basis. This point has been set at rest by a recent decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal dated 15th September 1953 in Appeal No. Cal-32/53 in which a decision of this Tribunal refusing reinstatement of 13 workmen on the ground that they were temporary was set aside by Appellate Court. No distinction can therefore be made between permanent and temporary persons.

It only remains for me to consider the evidence which has been adduced before me regarding an assurance said to have been given by Shri T. C. Kapoor, who was the Manager of the head office. It is admitted that he came to Calcutta about 3 weeks after the branch office was established and he addressed the workmen at a meeting held by him. It is stated that at that meeting there was an assurance that each and every employee will be kept on and that no one should have any misgiving of being removed from service. Shri Roychowdhury who was present at the meeting is unable to categorically deny the statement. He states that he cannot remember that any such assurance was given. On the other hand he was very anxious to maintain that Shri T. C. Kapoor subsequently stated that he did not give any such assurance. That Shri T. C. Kapoor had given the workers some sort of assurance cannot be denied. Ex. 40 makes this perfectly clear. Shri T. C. Kapoor says in his letter addressed to the Zonal Manager that 'he had made it clear to the staff that every effort will be made to retain the services of all but that he did not state that every one of them should be kept.' This speaks for itself and there can be no doubt that the staff was fed with hopes that they will be continued. Even on 19th December 1951 (Ex. A) (i.e.) after additional staff began to be recruited Shri Kapoor wrote to the Joint Secretaries of the Employees Union that he hoped that by the time he brings about the reorganization scheme the quantum of work would be so much that it will not become necessary to effect any retrenchment. One year later the work continued to be so much that it was found impossible to grant privilege leave to 2 of the workmen who applied for the same in December 1952 (vide Exs. 43 and 44). Much has been spoken to about the difference in office work between that which is done in the head office and that done in the branch offices. In Ex. T which is the Chairman's speech delivered at the annual general meeting on 27th July 1951 it is stated that 'transacting of office work in Chief Agents office would be on the lines on which the branch offices usually work.' There is therefore no reason to suppose that the branch office can transact their business as efficiently as before with a staff of persons much less than the number engaged by the Chief Agents. It is admitted that the business in 1952 is slightly more than the business in 1951. This is clear from Ex. 46. Though there were 86 workmen on 31st August 1950 yet by the introduction of Hollerith machine which costs the Society more than Rs. 25,000 some retrenchment ought to be possible and I feel that the work can be done by about 78 persons.

Considering all the circumstances I have come to the conclusion that there is no justification for discharge of all the temporary workmen. So far as workmen mentioned in Category II of Annexure D to the statement of claims are concerned they were employed merely on a temporary basis to clear off the arrears. Now that the arrears have been cleared up there should not be any necessity to continue all of them. So far as workers mentioned in Category I are concerned all of them completed 6 months service and they should be made permanent with effect from 1st September 1950. The same will also apply to the 4 persons among the workers in category II as there are four vacancies among the permanent workers confirmed in April and May 1951. The Employers are given liberty to choose four out of the persons mentioned in category II with due reference to their seniority and efficiency. As regards others the management will endeavour their best to find them employment in other branches especially in view of the assurances given from time to time. If after making all possible efforts they are unable to find suitable employment for them they are at liberty to retrench such of them for whom service could not be found. Persons who are confirmed will be entitled to arrears of difference of salary and Dearness Allowance from the date of confirmation. As regards the workmen who will have to be eventually retrenched they will be given three months salary and Dearness Allowance by way of compensation.

In the result my award is as follows:

(1) None of the workmen can count for service any portion of the service rendered by them under the management of Messrs. Dastidar & Sons.

(2) There is no justification for discharging the workers mentioned in Category I of Annexure D to the statement of claims.

(3) Four out of the workmen mentioned in Category II of Annexure D should be confirmed by the Society as per directions mentioned above.

(4) All these workmen will be confirmed with retrospective effect from 1st September 1950 and from the date of appointment in the case of the four workmen mentioned in category II. These workmen will be entitled to arrears of difference of salary and Dearness Allowance from the date of confirmation.

(5) The Society shall find employment for the remaining temporary workmen of their branches or other branches and if after making bona fide efforts are unable to find employment for all or any of them they shall be at liberty to discharge them but would be bound to pay compensation of three months salary and dearness allowance.

Now, therefore, this Tribunal makes its award in terms aforesaid this the 3rd day of October 1953.
